COLLAPSE OF HYDROPLANE

Falls Into River Off Little Hunting Creek This Morning

TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Survivors Brought to Alexandria Hospital—Accident Caused by Breaking of Propeller

Two men are believed to have drowned in the Potomac, two are in the Alexandria Hospital, suffering from severe burns and bruises about the body and head and from shock and the fifth a Washington newspaper man, was badly bruised and hurt in an accident shortly before eight o'clock this morning when one of the big Curtis' hydro-aeroplanes fell into the Potomac river, at the mouth of Little Hunting Creek, just above Mt. Vernon, and opposite Bryant's Point, Md.

L. V. Crantz, one of the oldest employees of the Curtis Aeronautical company, and Charles A. Good, a student, are missing; Thomas McCauley, the pilot of the machine and L. P. Utter, the machinist, are in the Alexandria Hospital, and Mayo Dudley, a reporter of the Washington Star, is at his home in Washington.

The five passengers left the Washington Navy Yard for Newport News shortly after seven o'clock this morning in the big air ship which bore the number H-10. It was modeled after the "American," the trans-Atlantic flyer built for Roderick Wanamaker, and is one of the biggest airships in existence. Recently in a test in Newport News it carried 16 passengers on a trial flight. The machine had flown without difficulties of any kind from Newport News to Washington on Monday making the trip of 120 miles in less than three hours. It was owned by the Atlantic Coast Aeronautical Station.

According to the incoherent stories of McCauley and Utter and from persons who saw the accident from the river banks, the machine was flying at an altitude of between 50 and 60 feet when the accident occurred. It was making a speed of 40 miles an hour. McCauley and Utter say they can remember nothing about it. They heard a crash and the next they knew they were being pulled out of the water.

A woman who lives near Riverside said that she heard a loud explosion and saw something fly from the machine and strike the water. Immediately the big arriship darted downward, but covered a distance of perhaps 100 feet before it struck the surface of the water with a tremendous crash.

The aviators say that the accident was undoubdedly caused by the breaking of a propeller or as they expressed it the machine "threw a propellor."

The tug, "John Miller" with two sand scows in tow, was making for the mouth of the creek when the crew saw the accident. The tow was cast off and the tug headed for the machine which was drifting with the tide. McCauley, Utter and Dudley, were hauled from the water but no trace was found of Crantz or Good. A half hour was spent in cruising about in the vicinity looking for the two men and in overhauling the wrecked plane in an effort to see if the men were entangled in the machine but no trace of them could be found.

The tug then put in for Miller's brick yard where the wounded men were landed and from there they were taken to the Riverside station of the Washington-Virginia Railway. McCauley and Utter were placed on the milk train which was just about to leave and were brought to the Alexandria Hospital where their wounds were treated by Dr. M. D. Delaney. Their injuries are not regarded as serious.

Dudley who was bruised about the body and had both eyes practically closed and though suffering great pain took the passenger train for Washington. He was almost completely blinded by the time he reached the capital and had to be led across Pennsylvania Avenue to the Star building where he dictated a story of the acident before he was taken to his home.

As soon as news of the accident spread along the river a number of boats put in to Little Hunting Creek and the crews commenced searching for the missing men. A government tug towed the wrecked machine to Ft. Washington, Md.

GLASS-JAMES CONTEST.

Entry of Danville Publisher Breaks up Plans.

Washington, D. C. May 10. — Rorer A. James of Danville, by entering the contest against Congressman Carter Glass, for national committeeman from Virginia to succeed Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, has spoiled the stage that was all set for the elimination of the line of demarkation between the "machine" and "anti-machine" forces as they have been termed in Virginia politics.

The entrance of James into the contest, however, has not detracted from the warm feeling of friendship that has been growing between the two factions in the Virginia delegation in Washington for the past two years and which reached its zenith with the promises of support made by the organization members to Mr. Glass, but unless James withdraws the Democratic convention at Roanoke on June 2d is sure to be marked by some unpleasantries between the two factions over the election of a national committeeman.

The hats of both Glass and James are squarely in the center of the ring and the contest is now under way, as both have declared within the past few days, that they have no intention of withdrawing.

The promise of support made to Mr. Glass by the Virginia congressional delegation was in the nature of an overture from the organization to the anti-organization for greater harmony in the delegation and to prevent the cropping up of anything like discord in the Roanoke convention. There has always existed the very warmest of personal feeling between Mr. Glass and all the members of the so-called "machine" faction in Congress, although on one occasion there were differences of opinion regarding Virginia politics.

As a token of their personal esteem and in recognition of his good services for the Democratic party in Congress, Senator Martin and Congressman Flood and their friends decided quite informally it would be a nice thing to have Glass succeed Ellyson.

Congressman Carlin has made no promises to either and will keep hands off.

THOUSANDS JOIN STRIKERS.

3,000 Tanners Among Those Walking Out in Chicago.

Chicago, May 11—Thousands of men were added Tuesday to the list of those on strike here.

Six hundred cutters of the Amalgamated Garment Workers quit, throwing the trade into confusion. Three thousand employes of local tanneries walked out. They demand an increase of 45 per cent. in wages, having declined a compromise offer of 30 per cent.

Five hundred employes of the Chicago Screw Company demanded higher wages and shorter hours and 300 employes of the Peter Schuettler Wagon Company struck for the same reason.

The strike of the employes of the International Harvester Company continued. Five hundred employes returned to work, but walked out again when demands of their committees were refused. The demands included the closed shop, which was promptly refused.

The strike of the cutters, it is said, will throw several thousand other garment workers out of employment, even if they are not called out. Local union leaders received authorization to call out all garment workers in the city, said to number 30,000. The latter allege that promises of better shop conditions, shorter hours and other reforms alleged to have been made after the strike of last fall have not been kept. On the other hand, the manufacturers assert that the strike is really for the closed shop.

PROPOSAL FOR CO-OPERATION

Gen. Obregon Expects to Submit Plan to Gen. Scott Today

WILL BE IN WRITING

Last Hope of Carranzistas to Gain Their Demands Which Caused the Deadlock

Washington, May 11,—First Chief Carranza has submitted two propositions to the United States with the object of averting war between the two countries.

In the event neither is accepted by this government, he proposes arbitration of the differences.

Gen. Carranza's propositions are:

First, that a definite time be fixed by the United States for the withdrawal of the punitive expedition from Mexico.

Second, that a new treaty between the United States and Mexico, defining the rights of each in the territory of the other, be negotiated immediately.

Columbus, N. M., May 11—Entrenchments were thrown around the military reservation here yesterday machine guns and other armament were prepared for service, and a motor train of 45 trucks, many of which carried only troops, was sent to the front.

Soldiers of the garrison were forbidden to leave the municipal limits after dusk and guards were maintained over the store depots, while civilians having no business on the streets were urged to remain in their homes, although there were repeated assurances from military authorities that no reports from the field or elsewhere warranted any alarm.

A camp site was chosen today for the New Mexico guardsmen, and it is expected that they will arrive for mobilization as soon as they can obtain sufficient rolling stock.

Neither Lieut. O. L. Bruncell, of Salt Lake City, mustering officer, nor other military authorities here has been informed as to the disposition to be made of the militiamen other than that they are to assist in border patrol. The trenches began yesterday will encircle the base camp. They have been dug in squad lengths in zig-zag shape to prevent enfilading fire. It was explained that orders were issued recently to entrench every camp along the American line of communication.

Ordnances, supplies, equipment, clothing and rations have been collected here ready for trans-shipment into the interior as soon as trucks are available, all of the 10 trains now in operation being in the field.

El Paso, May 11.—Gen. Obregon today expects to submit to Gen. Scott in writing his proposal for co-operative border patrol, involving withdrawal of the American expedition from Mexico.

The plan is the last hope of the Carranzistas to gain their insistent demands, which to date have deadlocked the conference.

As the proposal involves a question which Gen. Scott is powerless to decide—the expedition's withdrawal—there is possibility of the entire negotiations being switched to Washington for adjustment by the State Department.

Despite the increased tension along the border there is still a prospect of peaceful settlement.

Friction, however, between military forces has reached the danger point, and officials believed peace will be hard to maintain unless a settlement is speedily reached.

OLD POHICK CHURCH

Completion of the Restoration of Church Building Assured

Miss Amy Townshend, vice regent of the Mount Vernon Ladies Association of the Union, from New York met the vestry of Pohick Church at the church yesterday afternoon at five o'clock to lay before them a plan for the completion of the restoration of the church. Much of this was accomplished in the best workmanship, following the original plans of the church, as found in the old vestry book preserved at Mount Vernon, during the rectorship of the late Dr. Meade, and under the supervision of the eminent colonial architect, Mr. Glenn Brown. It is understood that the rest of the pews, four in number, and possibly the three doors will be restored shortly, so the funds for doing this are already provided for.

Mrs. Townshend stated it was her desire to complete the work of restoration by having the present windows taken out, and replaced by others of colonial design. and the original stone tiling is to be laid on the present concrete flooring of the aisles. It is also intended to enclose the churchyard, comprising the original two acre plot, with a brick wall as ordered at the time of building the church.

In addition, to this in accordance with modern ideas the church is to be heated from a furnace placed in a brick building on the outside, the heat to be conducted to the church by a pipe laid underground, so that all danger from fire may be reduced to a miniumum. The grounds are to be put in the best order and rendered as attractive as possible. Mrs Townshend said she was strongly conservative, and under Mr. Glenn Brown's architectural supervision everything would be done in strict accord with the original plans, which were happily preserved in the old vestry book.

The vestry passed a resolution approving most cordially the plans of restoration and improvement brought before them by Mrs. Townshend, and accorded her a hearty vote of thanks for her generous interest in the complete restoration of the old historic church, so intimately associated with Washington and Mount Vernon. Miss Townshend stated that the work could be accomplished at once as it would take some time to carry out all the arrangements. The Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis and Mr. Mellichampe were both present at the meeting.

COMPARATIVE CALM AT VERDUN

French Capture Portions of German Trench on Hill Slope

MAY ABANDON SIEGE

Usual Bombardments and Infantry Attacks Reported in Austro-Italian War Zone

Paris, May 11.—French troops repulsed with bayonets and grenades an attack delivered by the Germans early this morning west of the Caux pond, northeast of Verdun.

On the west bank of the Meuse, only artillery activity occurred during last night, the war office reported, the Germans failing to return the attack.

French artillery throughout last night displayed unusual activity in the Champagne region, concentrating its fire on German positions southeast of Tahure. About 110 yards of German trenches were destroyed.

Four French war planes bombarded the railway stations at Demvillers and Etain last night, setting fire to a railway depot.

Though German artillery continues active on the west bank, of the Meuse, evidently in preparation for renewed attacks, the impression is again growing in the French capital that the Germans are preparing to abandon the attack on Verdun. In this connection the statement spread broadcast by the German semi-official news agency yesterday with reference to the number of troops involved was cited.

French officers ridiculed the statement that 800,000 French troops are engaged at Verdun. They say the German government undoubtedly caused such a statement to be published to prove to the German people that the German crown prince was confronted with tremendous obstacles at Verdun, thus explaining the failure of his attempt to take the fortress.

A RARE MUSICAL TREAT.

Program of Concert at Westminster Building Monday

The DeKoven Quartet, Baltimore, Sara Storm Crommer, soprano, Mabel R. Flaharty, alto, Samuel Eischenbach, tenor, and Edgar R. Dobson, baritone, assisted by Harry Patterson Hopkins, pianist, Washington College, D. C., will give a concert in the Westminister building Monday evening May the 15th., for the benefit of the Music Fund of the Second Presbyterian Church.

The quartet has been quite successful in concert work in Baltimore and other cities this past season and will render here a very brilliant program similar to some of their recent engagements.

The program consists in part, of the following: Bridal chorus from "The Rose Maidens," mixed quartet; "The Kiss," soprano solo, Miss Crommer; Liszt Hungarian Rhapsody Number 2, piano solo; "My Love is Like a Red, Red, Rose," and "Now The Concert is Over," mixed quartet.

ENDED HER LIFE IN RIVER

Unknown Woman Throws Herself Into Water and Resists Rescue.

Philadelphia, May 11.—An unidentified woman leaped into the Schuylkill River from the west bank, near the Girard avenue bridge, last night, and died on the way to the German Hospital, after a Park guard and a boatman had risked their lives to bring her ashore and battled strenuously to revive her by first aid methods. The woman was about 55 years of age, five feet four inches tall and of light complexion. She wore a black skirt and coat, a white waist and a lack straw hat. In a handkerchief near the spot from which she made the plunge was found a rosary, a pair of gold spectacles and a few coins.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Inventor Receives Two Million Dollars for His Secret.

New York, May 11.—Louis Enricht has sold the secret formula of his penny and a half a gallon substitue for gasoline for $2,000,000.

Enricht's neighbors in the little village of Farmingdale, down on Long Island, thought Enricht dreaming when he claimed he could operate an automobile with a mysterious green liquid he invented.

But the Maxim Munition Company figured the formula so good it has agreed to pay $1,000,000 in cash and $1,000,000 in stock to the inventor.

The process of manufacture, according to Enricht, is very simple. Four ounces of a strange chemical mixture, green in color, is stirred into five gallons of water. The solution goes into the auto's tank and the auto runs just as it would if fed with gasoline.

Henry Ford visited the inventor, who is seventy, and he came away convinced that Ernicht's discovery was genuine, it is said.

The cost of manufacturing the liquid is about one and one-half cents per gallon.

Here is as much of an explanation of his invention as Enricht is willing to make: The addition of his "green mystery" to the water in the "gas" tank of an auto releases the hydrogen gas in the water. The hydrogen passes into the carburetor, where it comes into contact with the nitrogen of the air, taken into the engine through the air intake pipe. The explosive energy to drive the engine is the result of this combination.

Just after he announced his discovery Enricht stopped making his fluid because he said, he didn't dare go to drug stores to uy ingredients.

"Can't go anywhere without being followed by detectives working for the oil companies," said Enricht.

Maxim company officials say they will produce a substitute that will be used by every auto owner and knock the bottom out of the high price of gasoline.

THIRTEEN DIE IN FIRE

At Least Twenty-Five Others Badly Burned in Panic at Moving Picture Show

Norfolk, Va., May 11—Negro employees of the Norva Land and Lumber Company last night crowded a hall at Wallaceton, Va., for a motion-picture show. The lights were supplied from a gasoline tank. There was an explosion. Fire, which destroyed the building, followed, and at 1 o'clock this morning the bodies of 13 had been taken from the ruins. Between twenty-five and thirty seriously burned negroes were taken in automobiles and wagons to Portsmouth for treatment.

The building destroyed was a frame structure formerly used as a store. It had been turned over to the lumber company's employees for their entertainments and lodge meetings, and last night's picture show packed the place. The discovery of the fire and explosion came at the same time. In the stampede that followed, many were trampled underfoot. The building burned like tinder. In a few minutes it was a sheet of flames. Before the blocked exits became cleared the roof crashed in. Those pinned inside were helpless.

There was only one physician within several miles of the place. He used all available medical supplies in a few minutes dressing the burns of the most seriously wounded. He telephoned for Portsmouth assistance.

Wallaceton is a small settlement on the Dismal Swamp Canal, twelve miles from Norfolk.

MANIFESTO TO IRISH PEOPLE

They Are Called Upon to Support Constitutional Movement

ONLY WAY TO SUCCEED

In Spite of Bitter Provocations, There is no Hesitation in Condemning Uprising

London, May 11.—The Irish parliamentary party has issued a manifesto to the people of Ireland calling upon them to support the constitutional movement as the only one by which their aspirations for self government can possibly be realized.

"Another tragedy," says the manifesto, "has been added to the long tale of Irish tragedies. The capital of Ireland has been the scene of a mad and unsuccessful attempt at revolution. Blood has been shed freely. It is true that Ireland has been bitterly provoked by the growth of a similar revolutionary and illegal movement in another part of Ireland, backed by an army in revolt. It is true that the grave responsibility for these events in Dublin rests upon the leaders of that movement. These things will have to be discussed at the proper time.

"It is true that Ireland has been shocked and horrified by a series of military executions by the military tribunals in Dublin. These things have been done in the face of incessant and vehement protests of the Irish leaders, and these protests will be pressed continually and strongly until the unchecked control of the military authorities in Ireland is abolished. But it is also true that, in spite of bitter provocations, the people of Ireland have had no hesitation in condemning the rising in Dublin as a dangerous blow at the heart and hopes of Ireland.

"On the morrow of this tragedy we feel called upon to make a solemn appeal to the people of Ireland to draw the conclusions which these events force upon them. We must leave no misunderstanding in our minds as to our convictions and our resolves. Either Ireland is to be given over to unsuccessful revolution and anarchy, or the constitutional government is to have the full support of the Irish people and go on until it has completed its work."

RITUAL GOES TO BISHOPS.

Action of M. E. General Conference Virtually Assures Revision.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 11.—A revised ritual for the Methodist Episcopal Church was virtually assured yesterday when the Methodist General Conference by an overwhelming vote, referred to the Board of Bishops the report of the commission on revision of ritual. The bishops were authorized by the conference to accept or reject the report, or to make changes they considered desirable.

This action came as a surprise to nearly all of the delegates. After a prolonged debate over the phraseology of the prayers employed in the baptism of children, John T. Stone, a lay delegate of Baltimore, Md., moved to refer the entire matter of revision to the Board of Bishops. This motion was finally adopted.

It is understood the bishops are virtually unanimous in their desire for revision, and any changes made in the committee's report will be of minor importance.

Governor Charles S. Whitman, in an address to the conference, made a plea for preparedness for peace as well as war.

"I yield to no man in my love of peace," he said, "but I stand against the proposition that no price is too great to pay for peace. Nor do I believe that Christianity itself is committed to any dogma of pacificism Christianity is a fighting faith.

"I believe the United States should address itself to the task of an adequate national defense against armed invasion or unbearable insult."

Jury in Case of Emma Williams vs. Jos. C. Gates, Suit for Damages Discharged

The jury in the Circuit Court for the city in the case of Emma Williams vs. Joseph C. Gates, a suit for damages, the plaintiff claiming $5,000, considered the case for some time yesterday afternoon, but being unable to agree, were given a recess until this morning. When they reassembled it was manifest the deadlock still existed, and later Judge Thornton dismissed the jury and continued the case until the July term. The woman alleges that she received injuries by falling into a trench which the defendant, who is a plumber had dug on Oronoco street.

In the case of Patrick Henry et al. vs. Cecil K. Sherman, a suit for the recovery of a debt on a note, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

The court subsequently adjourned for the term.

TO STUDY WAR SITUATION

Methodist General Conference Will Create Commission.

Saratoga, N. Y. May 11.— The creation of a commission to study the European war situation and to report to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1920 was one of the main features of yesterday's business session of the General Conference, meeting here.

Plans are under way to conduct a great missionary campaign in the war-stricken lands at the close of the conflict. The movement was started by Anton Bask, of the Denmark delegation, and was signed by every other European delegate.

A resolution requesting Congress to enact a law to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in the Hawaiian Islands, was adopted, as was one by John T. Stone, of Baltimore, to set aside the years 1918 and 1919 as missionary thanksgiving years.

Memorial services for Bishop Francis Asbury, first American Methodist Episcopal bishop, were held.

Dr. E. B. Chappelle last night conveyed the fraternal message of the Methodist Church South. He suggested that the causes of disruption should be forever hidden.

BARS WOMAN DELEGATES

Only Men Eligible to P. E. Convention, He Rules.

Boston, May 11. — Bishop Lawrence ruled that the word "laymen" in the church constitution did not mean "laywoman" when the question whether women should be admitted as delegates was raised yesterday at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

As soon as the ruling was announced an amendment to the constitution which would make women eligible as delegates was proposed. The motion will be debated today, and if it is approved by a majority of both clergy and laity will be finally acted upon at the convention in 1917.

Miss Alice Arthur applied for admittance as a delegate from Cohasset and the Rev. James Bancroft, of Lowell, reporting for the committe on qualifications, held that she could not be seated. A special committee then reported that Miss Arthur should be seated, but a point of order was raised and Bishop Lawrence gave his ruling.

The contest fo rthe May Queen for the public school May Festival, to be held on the 26th of this month will begin Monday, the 15th, and close Friday, the 19th.

All the girls of the public schools between the ages of eight and fourteen will be eligible. The girl receiving the greatest number of votes will be queen, the crown bearer, and eight attendants will be taken from the nine next highest on the list.

Ballot boxes will be placed in each school building, two down town, one in Gibson's Drug Store, another in Dyson's Store, and one in Ballenger's Store at West End.

The tickets will be found at the ballot boxes between nine and five o'clock. One cent will be charged for each vote cast. The money will be used for school purposes.

TO TRY DR. LIEBKNECHT.

Reichstag Turns Down Socialists' Plea for Postponement.

Berlin, May 11. — The business committee of the Reichstag, to which the matter had been referred, declined unanimously, with the exception of two Socialist votes, to consider an urgent motion by the Socialists to postpone the trial of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and to suspend his arrest until after the adjournment of the Reichstag.

The Socialists claimed parliamentary immunity for Dr. Liebknecht, while admitting the justification of his arrest.

Herr von Fayer, the reporter of the committee, read official documents in which Dr. Liebknecht admitted participation in a peace demonstration, but denied that he was guilty of treason.

The majority of the committee supported Herr von Payer, in the opinion that Dr. Liebknecht had forfeited parliamentary immunity.

The Socialists introduced a resolution on May 3, requesting the Chancellor to release Dr. Liebknecht, and suspend proceedings against him until the Reichstag adjourned. Dr. Liebknecht, who is one of the Socialist leaders, was arrested May 1, in connection with the May Day celebration in Berlin, while he was addressing a peace demonstration.

Army Bill Conferees Plan to Encourage Preparedness.

Washington, May 11.—Conferees on the Army Reorganization bill in an all-day session yesterday failed to reach final agreement on disputed phases of the measures, but last night there was a general feeling that they would get together in a few days.

All were agreed that it was useless to talk further for a standing army of 250,000 men or the Senate's proposed Federal volunteer reserve army. The general understanding seemed to be that peace strength of the regular army would be fixed at approximately 180,000 men.

Champions of the volunteer reserve are now urging perfection of the training camp provision of the House bill, with pay at the regular army rate for citizens who enlist in instruction camps during the periods they are in training.

Hon. C. C. Carlin will be the principle speaker. Other congressmen and noted Red men will be present, and from all indications this is to be the gala night for the members of Seminole tribe.

SUSPECTED OF MURDER

Woman Believed to Have Caused Deaths at Old Folk's Home.

Hartford, Conn., May 10—"I didn't do it; I didn't kill any of them," screamed Mrs Amy Archer-Gilligan yesterday during a third-degree procedure by Capt. Robert T. Hurley of the State police, who was chiefly instrumental in developing the case against the woman which resulted in her arrest Monday night charing the murder of Franklin R. Andrews and inferentially her guilt of more than twenty murders of old persons, who have been inmates of her home for aged persons in Windsor, Conn., during the last five years.

Mrs. Gilligan, whose first husband, William Archer, died five years ago, and the second husband, Michael Gilligan, two years ago, was up early yesterday at the Hartford County jail, where she was locked up Monday night to await trial for first-degree murder following a preliminary hearing, when a plea of not guilty was entered for her.

By noon she had engaged as counsel Benedict M. Holden, a successful criminal lawyer. Mr. Holden directed Mrs. Gilligan to talk to nobody without his permission.

The State claims the murder motive was money; that Mrs. Gilligan, as proprietress of the old folks' home took $1,000 or as much more as the individual case might stand, and guaranteed the inmate maintenance for life. The state contends that the quicker the inmates died after paying up the more bank account for Mrs. Gilligan.

SUFFRAGIST QUITS CHURCH.

Woman's Action Applauded at Votes for Women Convention

Minneapolis, May 11.—Churches which fail to extend to women members the right of a voice in their affairs were criticized by delegates to the Mississippi Valley Suffrage Conference Tuesday, in an address on church co-operation by Kate Schritsmier, of Wisconsin.

A Missouri delegate arose and, raising her voince, declared that the pastor of her home church had gone so far as to "talk against woman suffrage almost every Sunday from the pulpit".

"What did you do about it?" demanded a score of delegates.

"Quit the church," was the reply, which was applauded. No action was taken on the matter.

DANGERS OF AERIAL NAVIGATION.

The distressing accident by which two men were killed and two injured a short distance south of this city at an early hour this morning, shows that man is still far from the goal of overcoming the power of attraction. The fearful velocity (about eighteen miles a second) attained by our planet in making its yearly voyage around the sun naturally draws everything to the orb, and defying the powers of nature often brings disaster to venturesome men.

Attempts to navigate the air have been made from time to time almost since man was placed upon the earth. The aborigines supposed that by swimming through the water, as do fish, there was no reason to suppose they could not fly in the heavens as the birds. After attempts during the past three or four thousand year it has finally been demonstrated that this can be done, but the daring Mongolfians are compelled to rely upon motors, which are liable to come to a sudden stop at any time, in which event gravitation asserts itself and they are dashed to death.

Grecian fable tells us of Daedalus and his son Icarius rising in the air at Crete for an aerial voyage across the Aegian Sea. The younger was warned by the elder not to direct his course too near the sun, as the wax which kept his wings in proper position was liable to melt from the heat of the day god. Icarius, however, failed to observe instructions and his wings becoming detached he fell to his death in the sea.

The moderns are not using wax, but uncertain gasoline, and their wings while not little to drop off often cease to flap while the areonauts are far above mother earth.

ANOTHER HOLD UP IMMINENT

The announcement yesterday of the probability of a sharp advance in the price of coal during the present year has added no little to the anxieties of those who are merely existing in this day of high prices of all necessaries of life. Coal is an indispensable, and it has been the charge for years that consumers are compelled to bear burdens not their own. In by-gone years it was alleged that campaign contributions of coal barons to the republican party were borne by republicans and democrats alike, as prices were immediately advanced that the contributors might be reimbursed. Many a believer in democratic principles was therefore forced to pay his dollar towards aiding in the election of a republican President.

Coal, it is suggested, is about to be advanced in price in consequence of a demand upon the part of the miners which has been met, but the advance is about three times that which is to be paid the workmen. This has brought forth a spontaneous cry from thousands throughout the country.

The Baltimore American in this connection says:

If the operators, using the recent agreement with their men for a slight wage increase, shall make a fresh raid upon the consumer the federal authorities will make a raid upon the operators with an official inquiry that will doubtless lead to the taking over of the mines by the government. While the people at large do not favor an increase of federal direction of industry, they do feel and most emphatically feel, that where a private enterprise vital to the existence of themselves, is conducted for gouging and extortion, the government not only ought, but must use its ultimate power for the protection of the people. The people pay taxes and support the government not for the frills of administration, but for the equities of existence that the government may bring about.

Attorney General Gregory in a letter to the Federal Trade Commission gives the facts with regard to the wage increases made by the operators since the year 1900. He submits the figures as to the increases in price of coal, obtensibly based upon wage increases. This showing makes proof positive that the operators might well cultivate labor demands as in every such case they have added a greatly disproportionate addition to the price of anthracite coal. The robber barons of the coal industry lay upon the consumers' back a punitive charge in every case where a wage increase is gained by the miners. The showing for the juggling of prices in 1912 following the settlement of the great coal strike is sufficient to give the people a view of the enormous and ruthless robbery that is carried on under the guise of legal toleration. The Attorney General says that the disparity between the price increase and the cost price amounts to a surtax — the consumer of $12,000,000 annually. Surely labor agitations and wage demands are a most profitable asset for the mine operators.

FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

When Napoleon Bonaparte realized that his eEyptian expedition was doomed to failure, he attempted to make the French people believe that his trip to the land of the Pharaohs had added much to science. The failure of the Kaiser to capture Verdun after several months of battering and the loss of about a quarter of a million of men causes him to look around for something with which to assuage the disappointment in Germany at his impotent attempts to oust the French from their great stronghold. Teuton war lords have at times made ineffectual attempts to quiet the stay-at-homes by requesting them to have patience. They have exercised patience since last February, but patience has long since ceased to be a virtue, and they are now demanding substantial results for the fearful loss of life in drives at Verdun.

The following dispatch from Berlin is significant:

"While it is generally considered that the attacking forces must be four times superior to the defenders, the German troops really number less than one half the French forces engaged, which are not less than 800,000. These figures represent half the entire force which France still has at her disposal for active fighting.

"Major Morant, German military critic, pointed out that all the German successes on the east and west front were gained against enemy forces numerically superior, and that the Austrians, for a year, have held back an Italian force twice as strong numerically."

Germany at the beginning of the conflict relied greatly upon the overwhelming number of men she could put into the field. The Teutons are now attempting to excuse their failure by alleging their inferiority in numbers.

MEXICAN BORDER LINE.

As a cotemporary observes, the United States fronts along two oceans and it has two boundary lines to landward, each of which is of such great extension that stringing fortified defenses along either of these lines is out of the question. The Rio Grande, a stream of some pretentiousness, represents about half of the 1,200 miles of boundary between the United States and Mexico. From El Paso westward our southern boundary is a purely imaginary line; it is not the sixteenth of an inch wide.

The villages and towns along the Mexican boundary line are often from ten to twenty miles apart. The Southern Pacific Railroad parallels the boundary over more than half the distance, but swings away from the line west of El Paso. There is a scattering of settlements near the boundary on both sides all the way from El Paso to the Colorado River and from the west shore of the Colorado to the Pacific. Where there is an American settlement north of the boundary there is apt to be a Mexican settlement on the other side.

The States of Sonora, Chihuahua and Coahuila constitute the most northly, region of Mexico, and, conjointly, they have a land area nearly as great as Texas. The combined population of these three states is, however, less than one-third the present population of Texas. All these Mexican border states have large areas of arid lands, but there are good land spots scattered over all of Northern Mexico. About fifteen per cent. of the population of Mexico is of pure European race, about forty per cent. pure Indian and about forty five per cent. mixed. This ethnologic ratio varies in different states but the proportions are probably nearly accurate as to populations of the three northern states.

Dr. H. L. Donsife, at one time a prominent physician of Frederick, Md., died yesterday at Montevue Hospital as the result of being scalded in a bathtub. Whether he turned on the hot water to end his life or did so accidentally could not be learned.

Demterio de la Garza, noted bad man of the Big Bend country, and reported leader of the Glenn Springs raiders, was killed in a fight with two American cavalrymen at Deemers, Tex., Tuesday. De la Garza opened fire on the troopers and was riddled with bullets after a sharp fight.

The Democratic State Convention of Connecticut yesterday adopted resolutions indorsing the Administration of President Woodrow Wilson and instructing the Connecticut delegates to vote for his renomination and also that of Thomas R. Marshall for vice President.

White en route from Fort Myer, Alexandria county, to the summer camp at Tobyhanna, Pa., 500 United States regulars of the Third Field Artillery were stopped at Reading and ordered to leave at once for the Mexican order. The force consists of Batteries D, E, and F, under command of Maj. Manus McCloskey.

W. F. Baird, a Pittsburgh coal operator and formerly president of the Interstate Young Men's Association including West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and the District of Columbia was found dead in a hotel at Marietta, Ohio, yesterday. Police believe he fell in a fainting spell and was choked to death by a tight collar which he wore.

George Buesing, formerly of Baltimore, cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday at Frederick, Md., and bled to death. Buesing had been married only about a month and was out of a job and despondent. Recently he was notified that $5 of an estate was due him, but he did not have 10 cents to pay for the affidavit and was forced to borrow the money.

Manufacturing bakers at a conference with a committee representing the women who declared a boycott and picketed bakeries in the Jewish quarters of Pittsburgh, because the price of bread was advanced last night agreed to acede to the demands of the housewives and put the price back to the former figure. The boycot was at once declared off.

The Bull Moose party will ask the Republican and Progressive National convention at Chicago on June 7 to nominate Theodore Roosevelt, for President and Charles Warren Fairzanks for Vice-president. This was decided upon yesterday at an all-day session of the Progressive National Executive Committee in New York and issued later in the form of a statement by Chairman George W. Perkins.

Secretary of State Lansing yesterday made public a note from the Imperial Government admitting that a German submarine torpedoed the channel packet Sussex on March 24. Germany declares its readiness to pay an adequate indemnity to the injured American citizens and states that the submarine commander has been "appropriately punished." The United States government will accept this German proposal and the Sussex incident is closed so far as it affects the diplomatic relations between the two governments.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The body of another white man, apparently in his forties, was found in the Appomattox river near Petersburg. Whether the several drownings of late were the result of accident, suicide or foul play, if not known.

While tearing down an old church, building preparatory to erecting a new Luthern Church at Pleasant View a village five miles from Staunton, one member of the congregation, Link Houff, was instantly killed and four others seriously hurt.

Minc Harris was convicted in the Circuit Court in Buckingham yesterday and sentenced to electrocution for criminally assaulting Mrs. Lucretia Branch on April 7. The woman was badly wounded with a knife by the negro but she has since recovered.

James C. Dobbin, a former Richmond insurance superintendent, lately manager of a branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, at St. Louis, was fatally injured Tuesday while driving a new automobile, and died that night as a result of his injuries.

Forest fires in Dismal Swamp burned with renewed fury yesterday, destroying considerable timber. Considerable wild game perished in the flames. The fire spread to Gilmarton and Deep Creek yesterday evening and ashes from the burning trees littered the street of Norfolk.

The Virginia Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows elected yesterday the following trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage: W. D. Hill, South Boston; R. E. Chase, Clintwood, and Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Lynchburg. The State lodges went yesterday morning to the orphanage, where the 125 children who are wards of the Grand Lodge are cared for.

Beginning at noon Tuesday the Southern Railway put into commission the eleven miles of double track between Dry Fork and Danville, the new bridge over the Dan River, at Danville, being used for the first time for regular traffic. The new route does not follow the old being as far as two miles away at some points, and this means the ultimate abandonment of several small stations. For the present, however, the through trains are to use the new double track, and the local trains will enter Danville on the old track through North Danville.

KILLED WIFE, JURY FINDS.

Verdict of Murder in Second Degree is Returned Against Morganton, N. C. Man.

Asheville, N. C. May 11.—Charlie Mace, of Morganton, for whom a hunt was conducted for four weeks, following the discovery of his wife's body at their home, yesterday was found guilty of murder in the second degree at Morganton. Mace heard the verdict with the same impasive countenance he has maintained throughout his trial. Sentence was deferred until tomorrow, at the request of attorneys for the defense.

Mace had been on trial since Tuesday morning, the chief witness against him being his 17 year old daughter, Bertha Mace, The case went to the jury at 1 o'clock, the verdict being rendered three hours later.

Mace's wife was found dead the morning of February 27, with a bullet wound in her head. The hole had been plugged with cough from the pan where she had been making biscuits. Suspicion pointed to her husband, who had disappeared and a hunt of four weeks resulted finally in his capture at York, S. C., at the home of relatives.

TO TRY CASEMENT MONDAY

Royal Commission Named to Investigate Irish Rebellion.

London, May 11.—Premier Asquith informed the House of Commons yesterday that Sir Roger Casement, who was captured on attempting to land in Ireland to lead the rebellion, would be placed on trial on Monday.

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the Irish rebellion. The members of the commission are Baron Hardinge, former Viceroy of India! Justice Sir Montague Shearman and Sir Mackenzie Chalmers, former Permanent Under Secretary of State for the Home Department.

The Premier gave an understanding in the House that no further executions would take place in Ireland before the time of the debate on the Irish question tomorrow.

The Marquis of Crewe announced in the House of Lords that Baron Wimborne, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland has resigned.

KEITH'S SUCCESSOR.

Speculation as to Who Will be President of Court of Appeals.

Richmond, May 11.—Who will be named as president of the Supreme Court of Appeals to succeed Judge Keith, who has been president for more than twenty years? Judge Keith will retire from the bench June 10th, the first opinion day in the Wytheville term, and will be succeeded by Judge F. W. Sims, of Louisa, who has been elected for the full term of twelve years.

There are only two men on the bench at this time who began service with Judge Keith—Judge Richard H. Cardwell, of Hanover, and Judge George M. Harrison, of Staunton. Judge Cardwells term expires in 1923, and that of Judge Harrison, in 1919. The court selects its own president, and the honor is one that usually goes by seniority.

Judge Keith will be placed on the retired list with two-thirds pay, as provided by the General Assembly for men who have served as much as twelve years and who have reached the age of seventy, which in Judge Keith's case will be $3,000 a year.

A SYMBOL OF HEALTH

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.

135,000 IN LINE FOR DEFENSE

New York Preparedness Parade To Be Largest Ever

New York, May 11—Plans have been completed for the Citizens Preparedness parade in which 135,000 men and women are expected to march here Saturday. The executive committee has received requests for information from many other cities where it is planned to arrange similar demonstrations. Included in the list are Chicago, Boston, Nashville, Tenn, Wheeling, W. Va., and Lousiville.

The parade, it is predicted, will be the largest in the history of the country. Times and space limitations prevented the acceptance of 62,000 requests for places in line. Music will be provided by about 150 bands.

The parade will begin to pass the reviewing stand at Madison Square at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, and is expected to keep moving steadily for 13 hours. The 10,000 National Guardsmen of the city will bring up the rear—foot, horse and artillery. There will be several divisions made up of women.

VERDICT FOR $55,000

Mrs. Hendrick Weeps in Court and Thanks Jurors

New York, May 11 —A verdict for $55,000 was returned yesterday afternoon by a jury before Justice Manning in the Supreme Court, Brookilyn, which has been hearing testimony in the suit for $100,000 for alienation of affections, brought by Mrs. Agnes Mary Hendrick against Laura Biggar, the actress.

Miss Biggar was not in court. Mrs. Hendrick, who had fought the case through numerous courts chapters, wept and stepped forward to thank the purors. Motions to set aside the verdict and for a stay of judgment were denied. Justice Manning said to sounsel for Miss Biggar: "It seems to be a just judgment. If there is stability to our courts, we should let it stand."
